The Federal Diary

By Jerry Kluttz

Future of CAA, CAB Now in Doubt

The future of Civil Aeronautics Authority and Civil Aeronautics Board are in doubt now that the War Department has taken over control and operation of the Nation's commercial airlines. The ultimate transfer of both agencies to war is a distinct possibility. However, key officials at both CAA and War doubt if the transfer is imminent. They have adopted the attitude that if it will help win the war a minute sooner then the transfers should be made. Otherwise there's no point in tampering with the organizations, they believe. Nevertheless, some officials in each of the three agencies believe the transfers should be made now. At both CAA and CAB it's argued that it'll be much easier to keep the organizations together for the duration if they're in the War Department.

In any event the War Department will rule the roost. Should CAA remain in Commerce and CAB continue as an independent agency the War Department will lay down basic policies and direct both organizations to carry them out. So long as there's no conflict between War, CAA and CAB the agencies will probably remain as they are. General Donald H. Connolly, former CAA administrator, is handling negotiations for the War Department.

Francis P. Brassor has been appointed chief of the administrative services division at the Civil Service Commission. He'll be on the staff of Executive Director Lawson A. Moyer and he will supervise the personnel, budget, and services unit. Brassor entered Federal service as a clerical employe at Census. He resigned as secretary and chief of the administrative division of Securities and Exchange to take the commission post . . . Tom Clark will be appointed to replace Fowler Hamilton as chief of Justice's War Fraud Unit . . . Walter Thayer of the Lend-Lease legal staff has joined Marshall Dimock at Maritime.

Hard Task for Felt

Truman Felt, Works Projects Administration's unassuming but very capable press chief, will be appointed chief of press relations at the Office of Civilian Defense. He will have a tough job . . . A drive will soon be made in all Federal departments to get employes to pledge 10 per cent of their salaries for war bonds and stamps. It will be mapped out at an inter-departmental meeting Monday at 10 a.m. in the Departmental Auditorium . . . Procurement Association for Recreation will hold a dance at the Shoreham on May 23 for new Federal employes.

The Board of Legal Examiners, whose fate is tied up in the Independent Offices appropriation bill, is sailing along smoothly. There is now no conflict over the board and it has 100 per cent backing. The big rub was over ungraded registers and now the Civil Service Commission is using them for nearly all tests . . . Keith Walling, secretary to Senator Lister Hill, will join the Office of Facts and Figures.

SUGGESTION TO UNCLE SAM: Here in Washington there are more than 3000 autos and trucks owned by the Government. These cars and trucks are used for everything from taking bigwigs to lunch to hauling trash from Federal buildings. Few steps have been taken to conserve gasoline and tires on these vehicles. Generally speaking the Government's trucks and cars have been operating as usual. Uncle Sam should set the example for the rest of us by restricting the use of these vehicles. One suggestion is that they all be placed in a pool to be operated by an independent agency. Each agency then would have to give up its free use of autos. Such a plan would save gas and rubber. But more important, it would make a hit with John Q. Public.

Treasury's Bureau of Disbursements will transfer about 40 of its employes to field offices. Volunteers are being sought. Disbursements will decentralize the work of writing checks for 750,000 Social Security and 150,000 Railroad Retirement beneficiaries . . . Messengers at War Production are demanding promotions to better jobs . . . Treasury employes have formed a Co-Op Car Club to carry out the share-your-car drive.

Campbell Elected League President

C. N. Campbell has been elected president of the Barcroft, (Va.) School and Civic League.

Other officers are John Harvey, vice president; Mrs. Viola Dowling, secretary-treasurer, and C. O. Potts, corresponding secretary.

Denoting a Trend

Norton, Va., May 15 (A.P.).—Two renovated buggies, aglow with new coats of paint and fully equipped with lap robes, whips and lanterns attached to rear axles, were sold quickly at a stockyard sale here. A farmer from Wise County brought them to the market on a truck with his livestock.

One Way to Move Them

Minneapolis, May 15 (A.P.).—R. E. Grimes, northwest field representative of the WPB auto grave yard section sent one of his inspectors to Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., for a check on a yard salvaging scrapped automobiles. Today the inspector reported in:

"Owner shot wife. Shot son. Shot himself Sunday. Cars will move next week."

Cab Zones, Rate Setup Revamped

Change, to Take Effect June 1, Will Create Subzones, Raise Some Fares

Rezoning of the District's taxicab map into four basic zones and 21 subzones, with accompanying changes in some rates, was ordered last night by the Public Utilities Commission. The new zones will go into effect at 12:01 a. m., Monday, June 1.

Except for smoothing out some humps in the boundaries of the outer zones, the only major changes in the four primary zones are in Zone 1, whose eastern limit was shifted from Eighth to Second Street Northeast.

A radical change is in the adoption of the subzone system, which is intended to raise the rates, but at the same time to make them more equitable for driver and passenger alike.

Plan Is a Compromise

The new plan, adopted after a six-months' study of the taxi industry, has been described as a compromise between the zone system and the meter system. Congress has forbidden the meter system in the District.

A 10-cent service charge for cabs responding to telephone calls was included in the new regulations. This charge would insure better service, it was felt, since the dead mileage involved now makes many drivers reluctant to answer calls.

A proposal by the P. U. C. for a 20-cent minimum rate for any trip of less than a mile was discarded in the final order. The unanimous opposition of the cab drivers, and proof that such a provision "would lead to confusion and many disputes between drivers and passengers, which should be avoided," were the reasons this was dropped.

The principles of the new zoning system follow those set forth by E. D. Calvert, president of the Lincoln Park Citizens Association. Calvert's map was printed in The Post several days before the P. U. C. first offered its proposal for public consideration on April 29.

Puzzle for Passengers

The breakdown into so many subsidiary zones naturally created a complication of the rate schedule. Instead of the present four basic charges and 11 variations that now appear on the map displayed in each cab, there will be the four zone charges and 21 variations for the passenger to figure out.

A considerable rate boost will result from the adoption of the regulations. At present the maximum charge in the District is $1.20 for a crosstown trip from Zone 4 to Zone 4 and passing through the other three zones. Under the new set-up the top rate is $1.40, which can be charged for any of eight possible trips.

There are 26 trips that will cost $1.20 after June 1, instead of the one prevailing today.

The P. U. C. explained that the raises in the rates were ordered because of the "noncompensatory" character of taxi operation, and especially of certain long hauls which resulted in a concentration of cabs in the downtown area and poor service in the outlying areas.

Although the general practice of tipping was acknowledged by the commission, this additional revenue was not taken in consideration in the analysis of the industry.

Gratuities Deplored

"The commission took the view that a taxicab driver, operating as a public utility, is entitled to fair compensation, not to gratuities," the chairman wrote in his opinion on the case. "In the operation of public utilities, gratuities lead to abuses; they are against public policy and should be discouraged."

Minor changes in the new regulation concern additional stops and strict provisions for the settlement of the bill when two persons, riding independently, occupy the same cab.

Instead of the present charges of 20 cents for each stop five blocks or more off the direct route, and of 10 cents for each additional stop less than five blocks off the direct route, the commission ordered a rate of 10 cents for stops three blocks or less out of the way, 20 cents for additional stops between 3 and 10 blocks off the path. Any stop over 10 blocks off the route shall constitute a new stop.

In the case of two or more passengers paying for one trip the commission ordered that the total rate shall be divided equally among all persons, except that no passenger shall be required to pay more than the prevailing rate for his own trip or more than the difference between the prevailing zone rate for the entire trip and the amount already collected for the trip.

The hourly rental rate for a cab was specified to be $2 for the first hour and 50 cents for each additional 15 minutes.

Children's House To Be Open Today

Georgetown Children's House, 3224 N Street Northwest, will hold open house for the visiting public today from 2 to 7 p. m., in connection with the Georgetown garden pilgrimage.

Visitors will be invited to view an exhibit of children's art work accomplished under the direction of Robert Lembcke, instructor at the Children's House for the past two years. The work to be exhibited is that of children from 5 to 12 years of age.

'To Be Worthy of the Tradition of the Red Cross . . .'

VOLUNTEERS GRADUATE—Red Cross volunteers who have completed training for special corps received certificates at graduation exercises last night in the Departmental Auditorium. Miss Mabel T. Boardman, chairman of the Volunteer Special Services, awarded the certificates. Here is a general view of the graduates, all of whom took the Red Cross pledge

The largest graduating class in the District Red Cross Chapter's history last night heard Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, surgeon general of the Navy, predict that "you are going to have an important part in the civil side of the defense of this country" in case of invasion.

The Army and Navy, he said, hope to keep the enemy at a distance but Red Cross services must continue their training and work for care of the civilian population should attack come.

In colorful annual ceremonies at the Departmental Auditorium, filled with uniforms of the various Red Cross services, 1626 Volunteer Special Services graduates received certificates from Miss Mabel T. Boardman, chairman of volunteer special services.

An additional 71,459 individuals who have been trained in Red Cross classes during the past year for such activities as nutrition, home nursing, first aid and water safety were represented by proxy.

Army Band Plays

To the music of the Army Band Orchestra, the graduates and their representatives marched across the stage to receive their certificates, then solemnly recited the volunteer service pledge in unison.

Admiral McIntire, speaking as a member of the Red Cross central committee as well as in his capacity as the Navy's surgeon general, said the Red Cross could be "exceedingly proud of what we are doing in preparing for this war."

He singled out the Nurses Aide Corps for particular praise—"because the Navy has already made use of these young women."

Declaring that "we cannot foresee a short war at this time," he predicted: "We are not going to have nearly enough graduate nurses and it takes time to train a graduate nurse. So, you who are in the Nurses Aide Corps and have become proficient, don't stop now but go on and become more proficient. You can relieve the graduate nurse and let her go on to other duty."

Turning to other responsibilities of the Red Cross, McIntire declared it remained for such organizations to provide "useful ways, attractive ways" of increasing the physical fitness among the Nation's young people.

Not Tough Enough

"We aren't as physically tough as the enemy we're fighting," he said. The Japanese attained physical supremacy by regimentation, but the United States must use other means to meet the challenge, he declared.

Young people, McIntire said, must be made to realize "they have a job to do for their country"—they must "toughen themselves up."

The graduating class included 148 members of the Motor Corps, 315 of the Staff Assistance Corps, 38 of the Home Service Corps, 16 of the Braille Corps, 224 Nurses Aides, 798 members of the Canteen Corps and 87 Gray Ladies.

Represented by proxy were 1511 who have completed courses in nutrition, 1910 graduates of home nursing classes, 44,684 who have completed first aid courses and 23,354 water safety course graduates.

Sugar Stamp No. 1 No Good Unless Used by 12 Tonight

Midnight tonight is the deadline for the use of stamp No. 1 in war ration books for the purchase of sugar, the Office of Price Administration yesterday warned individual sugar consumers.

Until midnight stamp No. 1 can be used to obtain delivery of 1 pound of sugar, but thereafter this stamp will automatically become void. After the deadline, and until midnight of May 30, consumers will use stamp No. 2.

Washington R. A. F. Flier on Air Tonight

For the second time in three months, Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Gray of 1417 Parkwood Place Northwest, tonight will hear the voice of their only son across 3000 miles of water.

Pilot Officer Walter P. Gray, jr., 22, of the R. A. F.'s American Eagle Squadron, will broadcast a message to his parents from London with other American pilots in the R. A. F. at 11:30 p. m. He will be heard locally over Station WOL.

Gray participated in a similar broadcast more than two months ago.

Doyle to Address Citizenship Rally

Henry Grattan Doyle, dean of George Washington University, heads the list of speakers for the second annual observance of Citizenship Recognition Day at Roosevelt High School tomorrow at 2 p.m.

New citizens will be seated in a special section of the stands outlined by the members of the Fort Stevens Post 32 of the American Legion.

Colors will be massed by several veterans' posts, high schools and Boy Scout troops. The program is sponsored by Fort Stevens Post and the District Community Center and Playground Department, with the co-operation of several civic groups in the north Washington area.

Gelbman to Get Bomb Training

J. Louis Gelbman, chief of the District printing department, was given leave of absence by the Commissioners last night to attend the Chemical Warfare Training School at the University of Maryland from May 18 to May 27.

Gelbman was selected by Chief Air Raid Warden Clement Murphy to take the course in order to become instructor in gases and bombs for wardens in the District government service.

Dentists Under 37 Will Be Inducted

Under present plans, every dentist in the United States under 37, if physically and professionally qualified, will be inducted into the armed forces, Dr. Gerald D. Timmons, of Chicago, executive secretary of the American Dental Association, said yesterday.

Addressing the Illinois Dental Association at Springfield, Ill., Dr. Timmons, who also is dental representative of the War Department's procurement and assignment service, said that of about 71,500 dentists now practicing, more than 13,000 will be in the armed forces if the goal of seven million men for the Army and one million for the Navy is realized.

Court Asked To Oust Trustees Of Columbus U.

A student rebellion against present administration of Columbus University resulted yesterday in a District Court petition asking an injunction against proposed closing of the university's junior college and immediate removal of the trustees as "inimical to the best interests" of the institution.

The petititon was filed by James J. Laughlin, attorney, in behalf of a student committee of five members said to represent the entire student body.

The committee charges that notice of the junior college's closing at the end of the present scholastic year was issued April 30 and a subsequent request by students for a hearing with trustees on the matter was denied.

The student committee, as listed in the petition, consists of Frank G. Kuemmel, Florence M. Hartman, Margaret R. Partlow, Richard C. Vingoe and John H. Aiken.

The action is directed against Columbus University and the board of trustees, William E. Leahy, William G. Feeley, Manning J. Willcoxen, J. Fred Brady, George E. Herring, Walter I. Plant, W. Francis Delaney, John P. Dunn, Leo P. Harlow, George F. Howell, Harold F. Jones, James P. McKeon and Michael J. Racioppi.

New Citizens To Celebrate Tomorrow

The humblest of hucksters will rub shoulders with some of Washington's elite tomorrow night when they get together to demonstrate their pride of citizenship.

Celebrating "I Am An American Day," a patriotic rally will be held at 8 p. m. Sunday in the Departmental Auditorium in recognition of those who have become naturalized or attained their majority during the past year.

The auditorium is at Thirteenth Street and Constitution Avenue.

Arrangements for the program were announced yesterday by a committee comprising the District Commissioners and 25 fraternal, civic, educational and social organizations. The occasion will mark the opening of a five million dollar war bond drive among the new citizens.

Speakers will be Dr. William F. Russell, dean of the Columbia University Teachers College; Marshall E. Dimock, formerly associate commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, and William C. Fitzgibbon of the Treasury Department.

The Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington, will pronounce the invocation. Corporation Counsel Richmond Keech will give the Commissioners' message and there will be a short talk by Miss Maude E. Aiton, principal of the Americanization School.

Principal entertainment features will be a Pan American pageant, directed by Mrs. Helen C. Kiernan. Music will be by the Navy Band Orchestra.

Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, president of the Board of Education, will preside over the "I Am An American Day" rally.

Scout Camp Opens At Carderock Today

By canoe, bicycle, streetcar, auto and on foot Senior Scouts of the Washington area and nearby Maryland and Virginia will go into camp on the National Park Reservation at Carderock, Md., today and Sunday.

Missing Pilot's Gifts to Wife Serve as Constant Reminder

A magnificent pair of Egyptian candlesticks, carved out of solid ivory, stand in a Washington home today as a constant reminder of the valor which carried a Washington flier from his job here to Canada, to Africa, and finally to Singapore, where he failed to return from battle while fighting with the Royal Air Force.

The flier was Cardell Kleckner, who was officially listed as missing after "air operations overseas" in a casualty list announced last night in Ottawa.

He had long been considered dead, ever since February 18 when Allen Raymond, New York Herald-Tribune correspondent, reported that friends of Kleckner's, whom he encountered in the Dutch East Indies, informed him that the flier had been killed, but the candlesticks arrived here only in the past 10 days.

They came, with other gifts, from Khartoum, Egypt, and were received by the pilot's wife, Mrs. Anne B. Kleckner, 4107 Fourth Street Northwest.

Mrs. Kleckner was out of town last night, but friends said the gifts from Egypt were not the only reminders of her husband's trek around half the world to arrive after she had conditioned herself, following Raymond's story, to consider Cardell dead. An occasional card and a letter from him arrived up until a short time ago, they said.

Kleckner, a native of Pennsylvania, worked at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing here for five years before joining the R. A. F. in September, 1940. He and his wife were married more than four years ago.

Raymond, who had met Kleckner on an English merchantman off West Africa, paid this tribute to him:

"This boy was magnificent."

Park Body Opposes D. C. Subway

Details Are to Be Kept Secret Until District Chiefs Get Recommendations

A report opposing the establishment of a District subway system was approved yesterday by the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, The Post learned last night.

The commission agreed with the report for the record, but refused to divulge its recommendations until next week, when it will be submitted to the District Commissioners.

The report, it was learned, deals with the practicability of setting up a rapid transit subway system comparable with New York's, and advises against such a move.

The District Commissioners, after getting the planning commission's survey, will then prepare their own report and recommendations for submission to Congress by July 7 in compliance with congressional order.

Reservoir Enlargement

Plans to enlarge Fort Reno Reservoir nine-fold, an action which will all but eliminate Fort Reno recreation center at Thirty-ninth and Fessenden Streets Northwest, were approved by the Planning Commission. The reservoir will be converted from a 4½-million-gallon holder to one of 40 million gallons.

The commission also:

Performed the gesture of approving plans for an emergency railroad bridge which the War Department already is building across the Potomac between Shepherds Landing, in Anacostia, and the northern limit of Alexandria.

Approved a plan for increasing the size of Boundary Channel Bay, near the new War Department Building across the Potomac.

More Picnic Groves

Approved the idea of more picnic groves and hiking trails in all of the larger parks to afford greater recreational opportunities to residents who will have to cut down on pleasure driving.

Gave final approval, after long study, to a proposed zoning amendment that would require all residential construction to provide off-street parking facilities.

Approved advanced land-use plans for the six dormitories, accommodating approximately 14,000 Government workers, which are to be built in Washington and vicinity.

Auto Hits Trolley, Veers, Severely Injures Girl, 12

A 12-year-old girl was injured severely and two others escaped with minor hurts when struck by an automobile after the machine had collided with a streetcar at Fifty-eighth and Dix Streets Northeast last night.

The injured girl, Mary Alice Williams, of Thurmont, Md., was removed to Casualty Hospital and treated for head injuries. Her two companions, standing on the loading platform with her, were given first aid at the scene.

While responding to the accident, a patrol car from Eleventh Precinct was in collision with an automobile at Minnesota and Pennsylvania Avenues Southeast. The driver of the automobile, Norman Dennis, 18, of Bradbury Heights, Md., was charged with failing to give right of way. Private Thomas Hayes, 49, driver of the police car, was uninjured.

For the Record

State Dept. Annex Plans Approved

The National Capital Park and Planning Commission yesterday approved plans for construction of a State Department annex on the northeast corner of Pennsylvania Avenue and Seventeenth Street Northwest.

This action would be the go signal for building the structure—except that the War Priorities Board has decided against releasing the necessary materials, even for a temporary building.

The State Department, however, is little likely to be miffed by the Priorities Board refusal, since the Budget Bureau, with the approval of the White House, had earlier taken over the site for itself, if it can ever get around to throwing up a building.

Only a few days after Pearl Harbor the government took court action to take over the buildings on the corner. The tenants—including a restaurant, parking lot, frame-making shop, and Court of Claims—were given three weeks notice, and they evacuated without protest.

At the moment, with some of the evacuated buildings razed, and others still standing, neither State Department nor Budget Bureau can use it. But the Park and Planning Commission, having the State Department annex plans before it, okayed them anyhow, at least for the record's sake.

Parade Will End Barney Festival

The fortieth annual May Festival of Barney Neighborhood House, 470 N Street Southwest, will conclude with a street procession honoring the May Queen and members of her court this afternoon. Seven Maypoles will be erected in the street near the house and a colorful program will be presented by children in costume.

Tonight, supper will be served at Barney House by the Women's Club and a program to follow will include a pageant, "Our Country's Past," and the sale of articles made in the settlement's craft rooms.

'Reap the Wild Wind' A Billowing Hit at Earle

De Mille's Thirtieth Anniversary Production Thrills With Vivid Action and Superb Color; New Stage Revue Is Brief and Breezy

"REAP THE WILD WIND." Cecil B. De Mille's Technicolor picturization for Paramount of Thelma Strabel's story, adapted to the screen by Alan LeMay, Charles Bennett and Jesse Lasky, jr., costarring Ray Millard, Paulette Goddard and Johny Wayne, with Raymond Massey, Robert Preston, Susan Hayward, Lynne Overman, Walter Hampden, Louise Beavers, Elisabeth Risdon, Janet Beecher, Hedda Hopper, Martha O'Driscoll, Victor Kilian and scores more. Directed by Mr. De Mille. At the Earle Theater.

IN "REAP THE WILD WIND," the film spectacle signalizing his thirtieth anniversary as a producer of motion pictures, Cecil B. De Mille has called into play the full resources of his three decades of experience.

In elaborateness and completeness of detail, caliber of cast and the panoramic sweep of its action, the new screen feature at the Earle Theater epitomizes the De Mille penchant for providing romantic, exciting and vivid entertainment. Not only that, but in recording Thelma Strabel's tumultuous story of the Florida Keys in natural color, Technicolor has excelled its every previous achievement in the creation of superbly realistic effects on land, on sea and on the floor of the ocean. There is depth, grandeur and infinite beauty in every scene—even in those dedicated to the extremes of violence.

It is a rugged tale of heroic days in 1840 that the producer-director unfolds in this subject, but one into which he has shrewdly contrived to inject a generous measure of romance, humor and the melodramatic intensity of murderous conflict, not only between individuals, crews and ships, but between man and the elements and the denizens of the deep, in addition.

De Mille has fashioned all this with a veteran showman's keen instinct for cumulative effect. Developments build up a tremendous crescendo to reach their climax in a mighty undersea struggle with a giant squid in which thrills and the element of suspense run higher than the waves in a Caribbean tornado. The octopus, by itself, is a triumph of technical craftsmanship.

Concerning itself with the vicious operations of salvagers who plot the destruction of pricelessly laden cargo ships on the Florida reefs for their own profit, "Reap the Wild Wind" has its locale in Key West, Charleston, S. C., Havana and the lanes of travel between. Many characters are involved in the far-flung ramifications of the plot. There is bitter rivalry in the drawing-rooms as well as on the decks. Some of the most brutal of the preying pirates are experts in the law, and some of the most daring of the seamen the objects of tender passions on the part of the aristocratic belles. Out of all this De Mille has evolved a sturdy dramatic structure that dallies a trifle with romance in the early sequences and moves a little slowly, but erases memory of that by the momentum it gathers later when the action moves out upon and under the sea. The unbridled evils and gross injustices are righted, finally, only by sacrificial and violent deaths that are as tautly melodramatic as they are conveniently conventional.

Interpreted by "Typical De Mille Cast"

The principal players in this turbulent item are a group of fine selection. The romantic rivalries are intrusted to Ray Milland, Paulette Goddard, John Wayne, Robert Preston and Susan Hayward. Mr. Millard and Mr. Wayne are a couple of robust heroes, who fully realize the valorous implications of their roles. Miss Goddard and Miss Hayward are sharply contrasted, as the hard-crusted gal of the sea and a cloistered young woman of gentler instincts. Secondary parts of pivotal importance are judiciously turned over to Raymond Massey, as the master-mind of the wreckers, and Lynne Overman, the old seadog on the side of honest dealing. Both are top-hole. Among others of note who appear briefly, but effectively, are Walter Hampden, Elisabeth Risdon, The Post's columnist, Hedda Hopper; Janet Beecher, Martha O'Driscoll, Victor Kilian and Louise Beavers. Lynne Overman and Louise Beavers manage to keep a pretty constant flow of comedy running through the proceedings, no matter how tense they otherwise become. Especially Mr. Overman, who has a unique gift for this sort of thing.

The Earle's new stage bill is a brief and lively interlude that snaps the nervous tension of "Reap the Wild Wind" pleasantly and gayly. It is headlined by Lynn, Royce and Vanya, the two stalwart men and the intrepid blonde, who convert an exposition of easy dancing grace into a riotous burlesque of the adagio, with slight traces of mayhem and manslaughter. "Pansy, the Horse," with her pulchritudinous "trainer," always is good for a continuous round of laughter and Bob Bromley seems to combine a clever gift of ventriloquism with the expert manipulation of his versatile marionettes. The infallible Roxyettes are especially devastating in two of their trickiest routines, the flashier of the two being the tuneful business in which they toss out tunes on their anklets and wristlets of sleighbells. The length and superior merit of the major feature make it difficult to notice that there are no supplementary screen subjects on this week's bill.

LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Picks Up New Racket!

Hollywood, May 15 (INS).—I hate to be trite and say "nothing succeeds like success," but some way that axiom fits Milton Holmes, former tennis manager of the Beverly Hills Tennis Club, down to the ground. Remember I wrote in this column at least three months ago that he had sold "Bundles for Freedom" to RKO for Cary Grant, at Cary's suggestion, and received the astonishing price of $30,000 for his first story. Well, "Bundles for Freedom," with a foreword by Cary Grant, appears in the current issue of a popular magazine, and now young Holmes has sold another story.

CARY GRANT

The new Holmes epic is called "Salty O'Rourke" and it was nabbed pronto by Buddy de Sylva, who paid a very nice price, I might add. If it is possible, Buddy hopes to be able to borrow George Raft for the lead. That means Buddy will have to interview Col. Jack Warner, who holds Raft's contract.

With any femme star but Bette Davis, it might be surprising news that she has accepted "Watch on the Rhine" because the Paul Lukas role is the "Fat" one. But Bette, who is always doing the unexpected, played second fiddle to Monty Woolley in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and loved it.

Bette made up her mind impulsively about "Watch on the Rhine," the way she does everything. Bette dropped into Hal Wallis' office when he was talking to Howard Hawks about an epic. "I Wish I Were A Man, So I Could Do Some Of These Exciting Movies With A Message," said La Davis. "How about the woman in 'Watch on the Rhine?'" said Hal— and that's the way it happened. So "Old Acquaintance" will be postponed until after the Herman Shumlin movie.

When M-G-M bought Eric Knight's sentimental dog story, "Lassie Come Home," they didn't know what a job they had on their hands finding a Collie dog that could act! search as they will they cannot find a "Lassie." So desperate has the situation become that producer San Marx is advertising in the local newspapers for owners of collie dogs (who think they have camera possibilities) to show up with their pooches at Hollywood stadium baseball park Saturday morning at 10:30. Collie should be under 3 years old, with golden markings on nose, and, if she is what M.-G.-M. is looking for, the lucky owner will have a movie star on his hands.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: was that Wooly Donahue with Margie Plant (Phil's widow) dining tete-a-tete at the Mocambo? Sitting a few tables away, Arline Judge with Peppi D'Albrew; Clara Kimball Young, glamour queen of another year, is up for a good role with Pine and Thomas, and here is hoping that she gets it.

Carmen Miranda arrived in town with 20 trunks of clothes. Bet 16 of them contained turbans; Jane Wyman and Ronald Reagan in a ringside seat at Slapsie Maxie's, so happy to be together again. Ronnie remains until he finishes a military short ordered by the Government.

Settling Divers Matters, Perhaps

PAULETTE GODDARD AND JOHN WAYNE as they appear in two of the stellar roles in Cecil B. De Mille's Technicolor production of "Reap the Wild Wind," now on the screen at the Earle Theater. Ray Milland completes the trio of stars in this exciting story of salvage off the Florida Keys. A group of distinguished players comprise the supporting cast, including Raymond Massey, Walter Hampden and Janet Beecher

HEDDA HOPPER

The Young in Heart!

Hollywood, Calif., May 15. That bit in "The Major and the Minor" brought Lela, Ginger Rogers' mother, out of retirement. She's been offered a new Broadway play, and she's wanted for more pictures. One of last screen tests she made was for Henry Aldrich's mother, but when executives gandered it, they said she looked too young, and skipped fact she was mother of Ginger. So she didn't get the part.

LELA ROGERS

"What they wanted," said Lela, "was Henry Aldrich's grandmother. Seems producers won't get over idea that a mother can be anything but a graying, plumpish, sweet old lady. They can't accept the fact that typical mothers, even farm women, are modern as the times."

Let's start a movement for producers' wives, most of whom are mothers, to dress according to their husbands' "movie mother" concepts. Sister, that'll bring the boys around!

'Tis reported that Walt Disney and Jack Benny are cooking up a musical, which might solve our leading man problems when draft gets 'em all. Why not let Walt draw them? Can you imagine Garbo tripping the light fantastic with Donald Duck? One of Jack's writers thought up the slogan, "A Benny for your thoughts."

Orson Welles sure is spreading goodwill down in South America at the expense of RKO. When he needed a plain building decorated, he called in one of their famous artists, and they went to town—at a cost of around $25,000, which will remain as a monument there.

After "Broadway" was finished, picture has to cut back to George Raft, who briefly explains that gal criminal in the story later suffered for her crimes. Hays office demanded it.

Carl Esmond gets his final citizenship papers this month, which means he can go out after 8 p. m.

Keye Luke, our artist-actor, is illustrating the de luxe edition of Donn Byrne's "Messer Marco Polo."

Universal is planning a South Sea series for Jon Hall and Maria Montez. First will be "White Savage," second "Cargo Girl."

Nigel Bruce has had to resign his air raid warden post, because after being on his feet three hours in last blackout his leg suffered paralysis for three weeks.

Could Leif Erickson's sudden desire for a divorce be because of Dorothy Moore, red-headed show gal who came out here for "Broadway?"

John Emory and dancer Tamara Geva looking serious again. (Whenever did they stop?)

Since work's preventing Leo Carrillo from touring Army camps, he's bringing soldiers to him. Entertained 170 on his ranch last weekend.

Gene Towne is recutting and commenting for a picture made in France in 1938. It's titled "Orders from Tokyo" and stars Danielle Darrieux and Anton Walbrook, who was so good in "The Invaders."

Joan Crawford has made many changes at her home on account of her children. The bandminton court is now a playground, her little theater shows nothing but pictures, and the neighbors' kids gather at least three times a week, with Joan herself serving tea, milk and goodies.

They thought Jack Oakie would howl like a Comanche Indian when asked to take flowers off Sonja Henie's hair and eat 'em. But after they'd had three shots of it, he licked his chops and said, "I've had my sugar ration for the week!"

Metropolitan

Sumptuously produced by the Warner Brothers and splendidly interpreted by a superlative cast, "King's Row" has moved from two capacity weeks at the Earle to the featured spot on this week's bill at the Metropolitan Theater.

Faithfully adapted from the Henry Bellaman best-seller, this morbid examination of the seamier side of life in a small midwestern city deals with aspects of human thought and behavior which to many tastes will prove unsavory. Others will perceive in its closing sequences an inspirational message of high courage and fortitude.

While there is little that is gruesome actually revealed upon the screen, the picture devotes itself frankly and dramatically to the consideration of the effects of family insanity, murder, suicide, sadism and similar distortions of the human mind upon a group of young people struggling with the complexities of forbidden, clandestine and unsullied love, accordnig to the circumstances of the individual.

Robert Cummings, Betty Field, Nancy Coleman, Ronald Reagan and Kaaren Verne are among those most conspicuous in the youthful aspects of the story. Charles Coburn, Claude Rains, Judith Anderson and Mme. Maria Ouspenskaya impersonate the elders. The stellar performance of them all is contributed by Ann Sheridan, in whose character repose virtually the only inspiriting qualities to be found in the play.

LEONARD LYONS

Loose-Leaf Notebook

New York, May 15.

Henri Torres, the famous French lawyer who recently wrote the book, "Laval," told of a dinner party he attended in Paris. One of the guests was Lebrun, President of France . . . Lebrun listened to a discussion about his brother—a simple French farmer, whose education had been elementary. "He's a good, intelligent man, with fine qualities," was the description Lebrun heard . . . "Yes, and it's unfortunate that my brother never had an education," said the President of France. "If he had, he'd have risen much higher than I have."

CHARLES CHAPLIN

For the first time, the author of a movie will receive an official citation from the War Department. The author is Capt. Richard Malbaum, who wrote "The Arm Behind the Army," the movie about the Signal Corps . . . Paramount Films soon will announce a contest for all American poets, for a poem about Wake Island . . . Grantland Rice will be the guest-star on Bill Stern's program, May 30. To make the broadcast, Rice had to cancel a dinner date with Vice President Wallace . . . Judy Abbott, who will play Charles Bickford's wife in "Jason," first met her stage-husband when she was 2 years old—and he was understudying her father, George Abbott, in "Zander The Great" . . . The Food Administrater's job may go to Milo Perkins or Clarence Francis.

Charlie Chaplin told Lou Costello of his great admiration for him. "At last," said Chaplin, "I've found a comic who's shorter than I am" . . . There now are four honorary lifetime members of Local 78 of the Bricklayers Union—President Roosevelt, Governor Lehman, Al Smith and the newest member, "Mike," dog-star of the Bricklayers vaudeville act . . . Bob Hawk, quizmaster on the CBS show, "How'm I Doin'?" polled editors throughout the country on the question: "Do you think a college education is essential for a career in journalism?" Ralph K. T. Larson, city editor at Norfolk, Va., replied: "Frankly, a 'B. A.' following a reporter's name isn't as important as a 'By' preceding it.'

A Washington mechanic was called to a Bancroft St. home to inspect some toy trains which needed repairing. He submitted his estimate for the job, and the lady of the household told him that the price was satisfactory. "I can come and fix those trains tomorrow," the mechanic suggested . . . "No, don't make a special trip," the lady advised him. "Whenever you have three or four jobs to do in this neighborhood, then you can make it in a single trip. In that way you can conserve your tires" . . . "Oh, but I have two good cars and I just got five new tires," he replied. "I calls it lucky. Now, then, what's the name?" . . . The lady told him: "Mrs. Leon Henderson" . . . "In that case," said the mechanic, "I calls it a coincidence."

Lieut. Winthrop Rockefeller is expecting a furlough soon. He arranged to spend it by motoring to a fishing resort with William Gaxton . . . This week Gaxton received a letter from Rockefeller, canceling the proposed trip. "We won't be able to make it," explained the Standard Oil heir, "because I just registered for gas rationing and received only an 'A' rating."

John Strachey, the British writer who encountered immigration difficulties during his last visit to America, was asked by a group of Londoners: "What kind of people did you find in America?" . . . I found two classes of people there," said Strachey. "The first consisted of those who confuse me with Lytton Strachey—and the second, of those who haven't heard of him either."

"Mrs. Miniver," the movie which was previewed last night, will rank among the few great pictures of the year. William Wyler, who directed it so expertly, has had a colorful Hollywood career. He was one of the legion of relatives Carl Laemmle brought from Europe to the Universal studios. But he decided to base his Hollywood success upon work, rather than consanguinity.

Columbia

That tunefully humorous Technicolored bit of photodramatic fluff, known as "The Song of the Islands," is renewing its F Street popularity as chief screen feature of the current week's bill at Loew's Columbia Theater. It is worth a look and a listen.

With Betty Grable and Victor Mature, for physical glamour and a touch of petulant romance; Jack Oakie, George Barbier and Thomas Mitchell, for much roistering comedy, and a whole island population of native Hawaiians, for the undulating rhythms of the hula and other native rites, "The Song of the Islands" is as innocuous as it is breezingly and brightly entertaining.

Although Pearl Harbor burst into the headlines while the picture was being filmed on the actual scene of its locale, there is nothing in it to suggest that there is a war on. No war, that is, beyond the one being waged between Mr. Barbier, Mr. Mature's shipping tycoon of a father, and Thomas Mitchell, Miss Grable's "beachcomber" papa, for waterfront rights which Mr. Mitchell happens to control. The recurrent belligerencies that spring up between Miss Grable and Mr. Mature and Mr. Oakie and his ample, feminine Nemesis, turn out to be merely skirmishes.

This Morning

—With Shirley Povich

Cleveland, May 15.—The virtue of caution has been discovered by Cleveland baseball writers after all these years of springtime topper-blowing. The midsummer slumps of the Indians were always accompanied by the crunching sound of the town's press box savants eating the words they wrote in April and May when the Indians were hot stuff.

POVICH

This season the Indians again are moving along nicely near the league lead and acting altogether like a very good ball team, but the self-discipline of the city's baseball-writing gentry is a new note. They aren't venturing out on a limb this year and writing the Indians into the pennant. Their restraint is sensational, for Cleveland. There are no signs of pennant fever in their paragraphs.

In fact, one day this week, a Cleveland sports page columnist went so far as to venture that the Indians wouldn't win the pennant in a piece that, until this season, would have been regarded as heretic. "The Yankees are boiling along," he wrote, "with such men as DiMaggio, Keller and Rizzuto in hitting slumps. A Yankee team able to hold the lead despite that condition will run away with the race when DiMag, Keller and Rizzuto hit their stride."

He really doesn't mean it, of course. He's just being careful. He still thinks the Indians are going to win the pennant, but he doesn't want to stick his neck out again. He isn't going to be embarrassed again when the Indians go into their slump which annually corroborates the calendar's evidence that midsummer is here.

The queer part about the soft-pedaling of the Indians' pennant chances in the Cleveland press is that this season the town probably has its finest ball team since the Indians last won a pennant in 1920. That may be true despite the absence of Bob Feller, who was supposed to take Cleveland's first division hopes into the Navy with him.

When the Indians tore off a 13-game winning streak in late April and early May without benefit of Feller, the league was astounded. As one press box wit put it, "that guy Feller must have been holding 'em back last year."

Big Jim Bagby has been breaching the gap left by Feller very admirably this season, winning his first five starts. Rookie Manager Lou Boudreau has been doing all right with his pitching. The other day he called on Chubby Dean who came into the league as a first baseman, to pitch against the Yankees in his first start of the season, and Dean beat the Yanks with seven hits.

That same day the Indians dispatched an old jinx, by beating Lefty Gomez, who took five games from them last season. There is, seemingly, no limit to the wonders that Boudreau can perform with this club.

Cleveland has apparently come up with two of the prize rookies of the season in First Baseman Les Fleming and Outfielder Oris Hockett, both from Nashville in the Southern Association. Fleming is banging away at a .333 rate at bat and is making Cleveland fans forget Hal Trosky. Hockett thus far is a .313 hitter in the big leagues, and is doing a competent job in the outfield.

Boudreau is a nut about hustle, and he has the Indians on their toes, running out hits to the hilt and generally showing dash. He's building his ball team to his own image, because he is that kind of a ball player, and the results are shown in the league standings.

Boudreau thinks his club will play even better ball starting any day now. "We've been doing all right with Ken Keltner hitting only .200," he points out. "Keltner is 100 points under his average and when his bat starts to help us, we'll be tougher. And Keltner's hits are the kind that move runs across the plate."

Boudreau is a realistic sort of guy. When he came into Washington ten days ago and saw his club run its winning streak to 13 games, he wasn't permitting himself any fool's paradise existence. "We haven't met the Red Sox or Yankees yet," he pointed out. "We've been beating a lot of weak clubs. Wait until we bump into the class of the league and if we still win, I'll think we're a pretty good ball team."

Boudreau's fears on that score proved well founded. The next day at Boston, the Red Sox stopped his winning streak. The following day the Red Sox repeated. The Indians moved into New York and lost two more. They lost six straight before Boudreau brought them out of it. But when he did, it was in the grand manner, as four straight wins now attest.

On the Line

—With CONSIDINE

New York, May 15.—Commander Gene Tunney's new title is a little thing called chairman of the special events committee of the national citizens committee of the Navy Relief Society. There may possibly be an "Inc." on the end of that, but there's a paper shortage and we had to stop somewhere.

CONSIDINE

As chairman of the S.E.C.N.C.C.N.R.S., or S.E.C.N.N.R.S., as it is called for short, Commander Tunney will have at his fingertips about a million dollars worth of sports talent. He'll make use of these athletic tars for Navy relief shows of all types, and supervise relief society athletic shows which use non-Navy talent.

Tunney will provide a far-flung sports program, which the Navy can rest assured will be handled with class. He will work with officials of the Army emergency relief fund on jointly sponsored events—the main one of which promises to be the annual Army-Navy football classic.

Among the Navy boxers Tunney will have for relief society fights are Tony Zale, Gus Lesnevich, Freddie Cochrane, Georgie Abrams, Billy Soose, Marty Servo, Lou Ambers, Fred Apostoli and Ken Overlin. In baseball he will have Bob Feller, Frank Pytlak, Freddie Hutchinson, Sam Chapman and Mickey Cochrane, among many others. In football he was such coaches as Bernie Bierman, Fritz Crisler, Sam Barry, Jim Crowley and Potsy Clark—as well as players beyond compare, notably George McAfee, Ace Parker, Bruce Smith and almost enough All America linemen to stop even runners like these.

The Navy Relief Society must raise five million dollars to take care of Navy widows and their children until such time as enough Pension Office red tape can be cut to reach them. With Tunney setting the pace, backed by men like Stanton Griffis and Walter Winchell, Navy athletes will raise a good chunk of the money needed. And the public, which after all pays the freight, will get a big league show whenever and wherever Navy athletes pull on a boxing mitt, step into baseball spikes or embrace a pigskin.

Speaking of Tunney, Gene may be a member of a colorful foursome which will play a Navy relief match on June 7. The tentative line-up for the match is Babe Ruth, Bob Hope, Tunney and Craig Wood. Tunney doesn't get much of a chance to play these days, but he's a steady low 80 man. Ruth and Hope scale down a little lower. Wood is a cinch to break 70, if he's lucky enough to sprain his back just before the match.

Word is flashed to me by dog-team from Charles Town (W. Va.) race track, called "The Saratoga of the South," by the wholly unbiased turf authority, Frank Cronan, the track's publicity man, that the little horse park is supporting the war effort with an enthusiasm that demands attention. And respect.

Charles Town is giving up 18 consecutive racing days to charity, from June 15 to July 4. The entire proceeds for the track on these days will be turned over to the service relief funds, the Red Cross, USO and other such charities. Eighteen days constitutes half of the racing dates of "America's finest 6-furlong track," as Cronan puts it

No salaries will be paid to the management during that time. All employes will be paid their salaries in war bonds and stamps, up to 75 per cent of same. Winning jockey fees, above the regular scale, will be paid in war stamps. One hundred dollars of each winning purse will be paid in war bonds. All profits from concessions will be turned over to the charities.

It's a breathtaking example for the rest of racing.

Braves Beat Cards, 3-2; Take Second

Boston Wins Game In 9th Without a Clean Blow; Losers Held by Al Javery

By the Associated Press

Boston, May 15.—The Boston Braves moved into second place in the National League today as they came from behind in the last two innings to beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 3 to 2. A walk, a sacrifice, an error and a long fly provided the winning tally in the ninth.

The Cards built up two runs in the sixth by bunching three of their five hits off Al Javery and they went into the eighth leading by that margin.

The Braves' Eddie Miller opened that inning with a double and scored on a single by Nanny Fernandez for the first Boston run. Clyde Kluttz sacrificed Fernandez to second and Chet Ross brought home the tying run with a single to center.

John Beazley took over the Cardinal pitching assignment from Harry Gumbert and retired the Braves without further damage.

Tommy Holmes walked as Boston opened the ninth and went to second on Paul Waner's sacrifice. He advanced to third on an error by Beazley. Fernandez got an intentional walk and Kluttz sent his former teammates after a long fly to left that scored the winning run.

Dodgers Score; Reiser Is Star

By the Associated Press

Brooklyn, May 15.—The Brooklyn Dodgers took notice of Pete Reiser's reclassification from 1-A to 3-A today by pouncing on the Pittsburgh Pirates for an 8 to 3 triumph and bumping the Buccaneers out of second place in the National League while increasing their own first place margin to four full games.

Whitlow Wyatt pitched his first complete game of the season and his teammates pelted two of three Pittsburgh pitchers for 11 hits, six of them two-baggers. Three of the doubles were by Reiser, last year's batting champion, who learned just before the game began that an appeal by his parents had been upheld.

The Pirates' second straight loss to the Dodgers dropped them half a game behind the Boston Braves and four and a half games behind Brooklyn.

The National League champions waded into Truett (Rip) Sewell with determination in the first inning and the conclusion was never in doubt for the noisy crowd of 21,308, which included 8257 ladies' day guests and 897 service men.

With one out in the first Arky Vaughan singled, Reiser shelled a double barely 10 feet below the top of the screen in rightfield, Dolph Camilli was purposely passed and Dixie Walker brought in one run with a long fly.

With one out in the third, Vaughan walked, Reiser again doubled and Camill was intentionally walked. This time Walker also waited out a base on balls, forcing in a run, and Joe Medwick singled for two more.

Sewell was finally knocked out in the sixth, which Mickey Owen and Peewee Reese opened with singles. Wyatt forced Owen, but Billy Herman doubled Reese home, Vaughan singled Wyatt across, and Reiser doubled both Herman and Vaughan home. After that Hank Gornicki

Giants Slug To Rout Reds Again, 13 to 5

By the Associated Press

New York, May 15.—Rookie Willard Marshall and his boss, Mel Ott, joined forces today in a batting spree that carried the New York Giants to a 13-5 victory over Cincinnati, their second crushing defeat of the Reds in two days.

Marshall and Ott each collected four hits in five trips to the plate as the Giants made every one of their 13 blows count for a run. Marshall poled his fifth and sixth home runs of the season and a pair of singles, driving in six runs, while Ott batted in three runs on his fourth homer and a trio of singles.

The Reds also notched 13 hits, but Hal Schumacher and Bob Carpenter kept them too far apart to do much damage.

First Loss for Starr

Ray Starr, winner of three games and loser of none before today, started for Cincinnati, but was knocked out in the fifth inning, when the Giants pushed over four runs, and was charged with the defeat. The Giants continued their assault against Paul Derringer, Ewell Blackwell and Jim Turner.

Carpenter, who replaced Schumacher in the fifth, got credit for the victory, his third against one defeat. One of the seven hits off Schumacher was a third-inning homer by Mike McCormick.

Reiser Is Reclassified 3-A by Appeal Board

Dodger Outfielder's Parents Appealed Previous Decision

By the Associated Press

New York, May 15.—Pete Reiser, the National League batting champion, was reclassified 3-A by a draft appeal board today, and the chief threat against the Brooklyn Dodgers retaining their pennant consequently was removed.

The 22-year-old star center fielder, who last year became the first rookie ever to win the batting championship, originally was rated 3-A, because he contributes to the support of his parents and four sisters and a brother, all of whom live in St. Louis.

But his local board in Brooklyn, where Reiser registered, placed him in 1-A last winter during the reclassification that followed the United States' entry into the war.

Reiser's parents appealed the decision. While the case was pending he married Patricia Hurst of St. Louis, in an elopement from the Dodgers' training camp at Daytona Beach, Fla.

The appeal board's decision was announced today by Francis T. Kelliher, chairman of local board No. 133. The probable basis for the reversal was indicated in a recent disclosure by Reiser that he had been asked to explain about the home he said he was buying for his parents in St. Louis.

Reiser himself did not know of the appeal board's decision until a few minutes before today's game with Pittsburgh. Then John McDonald, traveling secretary of the Dodgers, intercepted the player on his way to the dugout. Afterward Reiser refused comment.

None of the other Dodger key men are likely to be called into the Army as far as is known. Most of them are married and have families.

Pee Wee Reese, shortstop and Reiser's inseparable friend, was deferred because he supports a widowed mother and a sister. He also eloped from Daytona with his hometown girl, Dorothy Walton of Louisville, who had accompanied Reiser's girl to Florida.

Hale America Golf Attracts Record 1475

By International News Service

New York, May 15.—The record for entries in an Open golf championship has been shattered for the Hale America tournament slated at Chicago June 18-21, Executive Secretary Joe Dey of the United States Golf Association announced tonight.

Dey said that with the closing of the lists today 1475 professionals and amateurs had responded to the chance to raise funds for the Navy Relief Society and the U. S. O.

Still a few more entries may trickle in from Canada to be added to 15 Canadians who already have filled their applications.

Not all of the big field expect to play, but sent along their $5 fee to help out, with the result that the entry alone has raised nearly $7500.

Dr. Walter C. Ratto and Carlos Bracht of South America were among those who joined in the effort to make the tournament the biggest ever held, with the U. S. G. A., the Professional Golf Association and the Chicago District Association all teaming up to assure thousands of dollars for the war service funds.

Cubs Triumph Over Phils By 2-1 Score

By the Associated Press

Philadelphia, May 15.—Held to five hits by Tommy Hughes, the Chicago Cubs turned back the Philadelphia Phils, 2-1, today, sparked by Pitcher Claude Passeau's home run and a Phils' error.

Passeau, whose circuit blow came in the third, gave up nine hits but was effective in the pinches throughout.

The Cubs tallied their winning run in the sixth when Al Glossop, Phils' second baseman, threw wild over first to permit the deciding tally to score from third after two were out.

Philadelphia scored in the sixth on a single by Danny Litwhiler, Glossop's infield out, and Ron Northey's one-baser.

Nick Etten, Phils' first baseman, spiked himself in the heel while sliding into second base in the fourth inning. He was forced to leave the game and is expected to be out of the lineup for a week.

Still No Decision On N. Y. Night Ball

New York, May 15 (AP).—President Larry MacPhail of the Brooklyn Dodgers conferred today with Police Commissioner Lewis A. Valentine regarding prospects of staging night baseball in the New York area under the Army dim-out regulations.

Commissioner Valentine later informed the press that no decision had been reached whether night ball can be played.

Champion Floored For 9 Count in 3d; Fans Boo Verdict; Both Are Penalized

By Jack Cuddy.
United Press Sports Writer

New York, May 15.—Lightweight Champion Sammy Angott rose from the floor tonight in jammed Madison Square Garden to hammer out a split 15-round decision over Allie Stolz of Newark, N. J., in his first defense of the crown.

The decision, in which Referee Frankie Fullam voted for Stolz and the two judges balloted for Angott, was so unpopular with the crowd of 16,099 fans that the fans shook the Garden's girders with their thunderous booing.

Because of this display of public sentiment and because of "split" in votes, Promoter Mike Jacobs announced immediately that there would be a rematch. Even as he was telling this to the press, fans in the gallery tossed newspapers, hats and cigar butts into the ring, and two brawls broke out in different sections of the arena among spectators.

Would Have Won

If Stolz, a trim, brown-haired lad who had gone into the ring a 2-1 underdog in the betting, had not lost two rounds on fouls for low blows, he unquestionably would have turned in the major boxing upset of the year by taking the 135-pound crown from the man who wrested it from his stablemate, Lew Jenkins, in December.

Judges John Potter and George LeCron, gave Angott eight rounds, Stolz six and one even. But Referee Fullam voted nine for Stolz, five for Angott and one even. The United Press gave Angott eight rounds, Stolz five and scored two even.

Referee Fullam penalized Stolz the twelfth and fourteenth sessions for striking below the belt, just as he had taken the fifth round from Angott for punching low.

The 16,099 fans were brought to their feet screaming in the third round when Stolz floored the bull-shouldered, hairy-chested Pennsylvania Italian for the count of nine with a flashing one-two to the chin. This came after two minutes of the round had elapsed.

Hit With Right Hand

As Angott charged in a right uppercut exploded on his chin, followed immediately by a left hook to the same spot. This left hook—which Stolz uses as the following shot in his one-two combination—knocked Angott backwards to the canvas for one of the few trips to the floor of his career of more than 100 professional fights. Angott, who never has been kayoed or stopped, was dazed. He took the full nine count, then rose and continued the battle. It was the lone knockdown of the brawl in which the only bloodshed was a cut on Stolz's left cheek, suffered in the twelfth round.

Angott started off as if to make a rout of the encounter. His wild, windmill style won the first two rounds by fair margins, but Allie took the third on the knockdown and had a slight margin in the fourth. The fifth also went to the challenger on a foul, and they battled on even terms in the sixth, fighting even after the bell.

Then Champion Angott rallied and his swarming attack took the seventh, eighth and ninth. Stolz

Nats Weathered Out; Play 2 Games Today With Tribe

Special Dispatch to The Post

Cleveland, May 15.—The Nats tomorrow will attempt to prove that there is a Washington ball team. Thus far the suspicion has been that the Washington ball team is a myth. At least it hasn't been playing ball; at least not much. In the last nine days, the Nats have been on a ball field only twice.

Today's scheduled game with the Indians didn't materialize on account of (one word censored) weather, that was happening for the second day in a row in Cleveland.

If there is, indeed, a Washington ball team, Sid Hudson and Early Wynn will pitch against the Indians in a double-header tomorrow. And if there is anybody to pitch to, Al Smith and Mel Harder will pitch for the Indians.

Annual 'C' Club Meet Today Draws Athletes of 27 Schools

For the twenty-fourth year the best in scholastic trackmen in this vicinity will congregate today at Central High Stadium at 1:30 p. m., competing in the "C" Club track and field meet which annually highlights the local cinder season.

This year, in recognition of the war abroad, officials of the meet have decided to admit all service men free of charge. And these, along with other local and out-of-town fans, anticipate one of the finest events in years.

Twenty-seven schools have filed entries, and from them will come more than 350 individual performers. Leading the list is Episcopal High, the defending champion, but a dire threat is seen in Mercersburg (Pa.) High in particular. Numerous other less-advertised squads are given an outside chance of winning the Emory Wilson Memorial Trophy which will go to the winning team.

Central High, the host, will enter probably the largest team with 26 individuals. Also down for competition are such local standouts as Eastern, Tech, Coolidge, Roosevelt, Bullis and Western, and the following out-of-town schools: Jefferson of Roanoke, Staunton (Va.) Military Academy, Washington-Lee and George Washington from nearby Virginia; Franklin and Marshall High, Baltimore City College, Baltimore Poly and Forest Park, Hyattsville and Montgomery Blair from nearby Maryland; Sparks (Md.) High, Newport News High, the Virginia high school champion, and Woodberry Forest, the Virginia prep school champion.

If the weather is right, officials confidently expect two or maybe three records to fall. Washington-Lee's Buckert has shown enough in the mile and half-mile to give stars of F. and M. and Sarpks High a terrific battle for first place, and marks which have stood for as many as 14 years may suffer.

From Mercersburg, the early favorite, will come a fleet-footed sprinter, Cowin, who seems a certainty to shatter either the 100-yard dash record of Frank Hussey of Stuyvesant, N. Y., set in 1924, or the 220 mark hung up by John Marshall High's Bill Hopkins in 1934.

Bletzacker Rides Victor; Prince Govans 2d, Royal Business Finishes Third

By Walter Haight

A Staff Correspondent

Charles Town, W. Va., May 15.—Mrs. Mary Knieriem's Red Wrack, an old standby around this course, drove to the finish line a length ahead of the closest opposition to win the Panhandle Purse, featuring the Friday program. Jockey Martin Bletzacker put up a strong ride on the 5-year-old gelding. Prince Govans, owned by John J. Farrell, Jr., was second, with Ewart Johnston's Royal Business, the old Charles Town champion, third, in the field of eight going 6½ furlongs.

Despite gas rationing, about the average Friday crowd saw the eight-race program. Red Wrack was installed the favorite and supported his army of backers with a $5.20 mutuel. He was clocked in 1:20 3-5, 2 full seconds over the mark for the sprint route set by Imperial Impy in the James River Purse here last year.

Running Blue and Remolee, a pair of longshots, battled for pacemaking honors in the early stages. Bletzacker had Red Wrack under steady restraint at this stage. Prince Govans and Royal Business were far back.

On the backstretch, the front runners began to tire and Red Wrack went to the front. Prince Govans moved to contention on the outside. Royal Business was having trouble between horses.

The chief battle settled into one between Red Wrack and Prince Govans. Don Orlan and Royal Business moved up in the stretch run. Red Wrack had too many speed guns for Prince Govans and the latter hung approaching the wire. Royal Business came along in time to take the show money from Don Orlan by a photograph.

Jockey Bletzacker put up another fine ride aboard M. B. Goss' Hot Man in the seventh event. He brought the 5-year-old through on the rail and then kept him going to the end to win over W. S. Sprague's Purple Dawn and J. L. Garthright's Worthowning. This winner paid $7.20.

The daily double paid $45.80. N. J. Fillman's Sun Salvator took command at the start and won by three and a half lengths in the second race. The favorite, W. E. Johnson's Dispurr, took the third race by three lengths and brought her individual backers a $4.40 mutuel.

ROYAL BUSINESS was taken up going into first turn, moved between horses on backstretch, came inside entering stretch and closed with good energy. DON ORLAN was hard ridden and had no excuses.

Central, Roosevelt and Anacostia Capture Interhigh Games

Vikings Defeat Tech, 9-3, Break Tie for 3d

Eastern Bows, 6-1, to Riders; Indians Down Colts, 5-0, Administering 4th Beating in Row

While the two leaders rested on their somewhat shaky laurels, teams farther down the interhigh baseball standings scrambled on three fronts for a crack at the top clubs during yesterday's high wind. Out of it all Central, 1940 champion, emerged on its home field with the best chance as it draped a 9—3 beating on Tech. The triumph broke a tie for third place between the teams, leaving the Vikings only half a game off the pace of Western and Wilson.

Roosevelt finally came to life and stopped Eastern, 6—1, in a second battle at Roosevelt, and finally Anacostia, the biggest disappointment of the season, found energy enough to hand Coolidge its fourth straight beating, 5—0, out at Fifth and Sheridan.

Tech's O'Connell Wild

The wildness of Tech's man O'Connell, helped not at all by the gale, was Central's main cheering point in the feature. For five innings he squeezed out of difficulty nicely, leaving 11 Vikings stranded, but then his luck left him.

All but one of the six men to face him in the sixth got to base and he started walking 'em home. It was time for Sammy Webb to take over, sending O'Connell to the showers with 7 runs, 6 hits and 10 bases on balls charged to him.

Five Viking runs came home in that sixth inning, settling the issue quite definitely. Three men scored, however, on Ned Brogan's single to center, fumbled by Outfielder Moe Friedberg and then thrown wild into the stands.

Meanwhile, Harry Wolfe, a regular outfielder, was having a little trouble but recovering well with a total of 13 strikeouts. Most of them came when needed or in spots like the fourth inning when Wolfe struck out three in a row.

Play was halted for several minutes during a desperate Tech rally in the eighth frame as players and spectators alike rushed across the Central field to watch a fight on Florida Avenue.

Indians Show Early Form

Early season form was displayed by Anacostia's nine, despite the fact it could collect only five runs off the first-year Colts of Coolidge.

The Indians pounded out 13 safeties, including a triple and single, surprised even themselves by committing no errors, and coasted easily home behind big Elmer Leukhardt.

Leukhardt tossed a five-hit game at the hosts to beat out Alpert, regular catcher of the Colts, who got the pitching assignment for a change. Leukhardt fanned 11 of the opposing batsmen—three straight in the sixth inning on only nine pitches—and allowed only two bases on balls.

The Indians were launched toward victory in the second stanza when Bob Nelson, replacing Catcher George Hardy, slammed a four-bagger with a mate on base. Two more runs in the third and a single tally in the fifth completed the scoring.

Coolidge's biggest threat came in the seventh inning. It managed to get two men on base, but Alpert and Clark responded by weakly popping out to leave them stranded.

Roosevelt Not Threatened

Roosevelt was never very seriously threatened by Eastern as the latter went down to its fourth league defeat in five starts. The Riders pushed across single runs in both the second and third innings, then capped them with a four-run outburst in the eighth.

The White Tide worked up steam enough for its lone tally in the sixth.

Billy Garner, playing his first 1942 interhigh game since becoming eligible, walked off with most of the honors in the victory. He limited Eastern to five scattered hits, struck out six and contributed a double to his own cause in the eighth.

Following that blow three successive walks off "Wee" Speiser, the Tide hurler, forced in one run, a single by Outfielder Zelles brought home two more, and Tomasulo's single completed the scoring.

Market Nine Wins, 22-1, in Post League

Center Market nine rang up one of the most one-sided triumphs ever recorded in The Post-Industrial Sandlot League yesterday when it trampled H. and J. Construction, 22-1, in six innings.

While Bill Helmer held the losers to 4 hits, his mates collected 20. They staged a 13-run spree in the third inning. Helmer himself slammed five hits in five times at the plate, including a three-run homer in the sixth.

Catcher John Harvil of Tech decided the opposition's catcher had a good arm during this play in yesterday's Tech-Central game. Central's Billy Carrier threw him out at third base in the third inning when he attempted to steal. Bob Fielding did the tagging, and Central went ahead to win, 9-3

Big 10 Track Dominated by Ohio State

By the Associated Press

Evanston, Ill., May 15.—If there were any doubts of Ohio State's ability to win the Big Ten track championship, they vanished in today's preliminary trials, which the Buckeyes dominated completely by placing men in 13 positions.

Qualifying tests in the shot-put, discus and broad jump were postponed, because of the weather, until 1:45 p. m. (Central war time) Saturday. The 14-event championships will begin at 2:30 p. m. with Ohio State more than ever favored to make a grand slam by capturing the outdoor title to go with its indoor crown.

It would be the Bucks' first outdoor track championship in history and would wreck a seven-year monopoly held by power teams of Michigan and Indiana.

Illinois took eight positions today; Michigan, seven; Minnesota, five; Indiana, four; Iowa, four; Wisconsin, three, and Purdue, one. Chicago and Northwestern failed to place a man. Preliminaries were held in all track events except the mile, 2-mile and mile relay.

The times were far off the record beam because of the heaviness of the track.

$20 Check Swells Soldiers' Ticket Fund to $335

A $20 check donated by Crain's Sanitary Restaurant of 201 Upshur Street Northwest, has upped the serviceman's ticket fund to $335. The fund is purchasing tickets to the Navy Relief Boxing Show next Thursday night at Griffith Stadium and the tickets are being distributed to the nearby service bases for soldiers, sailors and marines.

It is suffice to say that the fund has more demands than it will be able to take care of. But a fair amount of service men will be provided with tickets. Send contributions to Tony Neri, Post boxing writer. Tuesday has been set as the deadline of the campaign.

Savold Opens Training Here For Navy Show

Lee Savold opened local training yesterday for his engagement with Lou Nova on the Navy Relief Boxing Show next Thursday night with an impressive hour drill at the Knights of Columbus gym. Savold, scaling 192 pounds after two weeks at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., appeared in excellent shape as he sparred with "Stomping" Bob Smith, colored Pittsburgh heavyweight.

Savold was accompanied here by Managers Bill Daly and Hymie Wiseman. The Des Moines (Iowa) heavyweight is getting his first big chance against Nova in the ten-round main attraction and he's trained harder for this than any of his other fights. At Greenwood, Savold averaged 10 miles of road work daily plus his routine of calisthenics.

In Good Shape

He was a picture of a well-conditioned fighter. He was hitting sharper and moving around like a fast lightweight. Manager Daly expects him to weigh 190 by ring time. Savold, winner of 17 straight fights, expressed confidence that he'd beat Nova, possibly by an early knockout. He will drill again today at 3 o'clock at the K. of C. gym, 920 Tenth Street Northwest. Arrangements have been made to allow servicemen to see today's workout.

Meantime, Nova arrived yesterday afternoon and he will begin work today at 2 o'clock at Uline Arena, Third and M Streets Northeast. Nova will be handled by Trainer Ray Arcel and Manager Ray Carlen. The fight will mark the first for Nova since his loss to Champion Joe Louis last September. He's been training at Stillman's Gym in New York.

Mamakos to Drill

Also slated to drill today is Steve Mamakos, who fights Georgie Abrams in a 10-rounder. Steve will continue his drills at the K. of C. Gym immediately after Savold finishes. Mamakos has been working out every day and Manager Matt Twomey is confident his middleweight will hurdle Abrams in this rubber match.

Huskers Lead Big Six Track Preliminaries

By the Associated Press

Lincoln, Nebr., May 15.—Nebraska, seeking a fourth consecutive Big Six Track and Field Championship, was installed tonight as a top-heavy favorite to do the job after having gained in today's preliminaries 22 places in the finals.

The all-around strength of the Huskers was pronounced as 11 of the spots in the finals were in the field events and 11 in the speed tests. In addition the defending champions had the mile favorite in Bob Ginn, who won last year, and Harold Hunt in the pole vault in which he set a new record last year.

Iowa State gained 14 places but several of the qualifiers were so far down in the field event lists that they didn't appear as serious point threats. Oklahoma had 12 and most of the boys looked like point getters.

Missouri held 11 places, 7 in the track events where the Tigers were sure to do some heavy scoring. Kansas State also had 11 place, 6 for the track and 5 in the field. Kansas trailed with 7, 6 in the field contests.

Blair's other four points were won by Horton, McDaniel and Wells, plus a best-ball point by the first two. Devitt's Delburg defeated Tilford, 6 and 5, and Devitt gathered its other point from a best ball in that foursome, 3 and 2.

A WARNING—Lee Savold, who is fighting Lou Nova on the Navy Relief boxing card next Thursday at Griffith Stadium, is shown as he finished a training session at the Knights of Columbus gym. ## North Carolina, Duke Pacing Meet Trials

By the Associated Press

Durham, N. C., May 15.—Trackmen from North Carolina and Duke set the stage today for their expected battle for the team crown as the field moved through the qualifying trials in the twentieth annual Southern Conference track and field meet in Duke Stadium.

Pre-meet predictions were that these two bitter rivals would fight it out for the title won by Duke at Williamsburg, Va., last year and nothing occurred this afternoon that might chance that forecast.

The Tar Heels moved the largest representation into tomorrow's finals—a squad of better than 25 men. The Blue Devils qualified 20.

Only one of the defending champions back this year will not appear tomorrow. He is Moffat Storer of Duke who relinquished his crown in the 220-yard dash. Still bothered by an injury that has hampered him all spring, Storer was scratched before the qualifying heat started.

Best performances of the day were in the two trial heats of the 100-yard dash. In them Paul McMullin of V. P. I. and Harlie Masters of William and Mary won, both turning in times of 9.9 seconds, just one-tenth of a second over the meet record, although both were aided by a slight tail wind.

Only 3 Maryland Trackmen in Meet

Maryland will be represented by three of its leading track and field stars today at Durham in the annual Southern Conference championships. It is the Terps' smallest entry in modern history, due to the difficulties of transportation.

John Gilmore will defend the high jump title he won last year as a sophomore; Bob James will compete in the high and low hurdles while Sterling Kehoe, ever-improving distance runner, will start in the 2 miles.

Heck Horn, shot-put and discus thrower, and Bob Condon, conference indoor half-mile champion, could have gone to the meet but for more pressing business at home. Horn would have been a decided favorite in the discus and an almost certain point winner in the shot.

Hockey Hopes To Operate Next Season

By the Associated Press

Toronto, May 15.—The National Hockey League "expects to operate" next season and "like any other business will do whatever the governments of Canada and the United States request us to do," read a statement issued at the conclusion of the league's annual meeting today.

At the same time the league lifted the suspension of Jack Adams which was imposed on the Detroit manager after he struck Referee Mel Harwood in the fourth game of the recent Stanley Cup playoffs with Toronto.

Frank Calder of Toronto, who was reelected president, also said after the meeting that no players were drafted from the minors.

House of David Beats Ethiopians At Stadium, 11 to 3

Without losing a single ball in their beards, touring House of David diamonders registered an 11-3 triumph over the Ethiopian Clowns yesterday in a seven-inning exhibition of baseball screwiness at Griffith Stadium.

Approximately 1000 fans turned out for the fun-fest, which also turned up a few excellent plays. Tops on the program, however, were the stunts of both teams, including a pre-game warm-up without a ball, a clowning pepper game and a rowing act.

Two-Day Washington Horse Show Begins

Meadowbrook Club Scene Today of Charity Event; Women Riders Face Men in Feature

With its program as crowded as in prewar days, the Washington Horse Show opens a two-day stand at the Meadowbrook Saddle Club today, with proceeds going to the Childrens Hospital Fund of the Junior League.

Team competition between two quartets of lady and gentlemen riders is the feature event of both afternoon performances. On the ladies' team is Margaret Cotter with King Rock, Mrs. Fred J. Hughes, jr., riding her Hi-Ho despite a broken hand; Mrs. Edward Lasker with her Modernistic, and Mrs. W. Haggin Perry with My Freckles, diminutive open jumping pony.

Combating this aggregation of leaping talent will be Samuel E. Bogley with his Ringmaster; Alex Calvert of Warrenton, Va., with Mr.° and Mrs. Martin Vogel, jr.'s Hilow Ladd; David Martin, young Norbeck, Md., rider, with Cateer, and Morton W. (Cappy) Smith with another of Mrs. Lasker's horses.

The show barns in back of the big Meadowbrook ring are filled to capacity with a long list of some of the East's best hunters and open jumpers. Although wartime restrictions cut the appearance of some out-of-town stables, many others from New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and North Carolina are on hand as in other years.

Local entries have turned out in unexpected numbers, however, with hunter, jumper and junior events filled with mounts familiar to all Maryland-Virginia-District followers.

Adequate bus facilities have been provided across East-West Highway from both Sixteenth Street and Connecticut Avenue.

Kuster Hurling Star, Bethesda Wins by 9 to 1

Errorless ball plus a four-hit pitching chore by Dick Kuster accounted for Bethesda-Chevy Chase High's 9-1 triumph over Washington-Lee High nine yesterday, the second time this season the Barons have topped their cross-city rivals.

In marking up their eighth victory in 13 starts, the Barons slugged two Little General hurlers for 14 hits on the Bethesda field. Featured blow of the day was Harry Phillips' round-tripper in the third inning.

To Phillips went batting honors of the day, four hits in as many times at bat. Kuster hung up 14 strikeouts to augment his four-hit pitching.

C. U. Plays Hoyas, Terps Meet G. W. In Games Today

A couple of intra-District college baseball games today will pair off Catholic University and Georgetown at the Hilltop and Maryland and George Washington at College Park. Both will start at 2:30.

Georgetown, seeking its ninth victory in 12 games and its third in four days, will be a decided favorite over the Cards. The Maryland-G. W. tussle, their second of the season, looks like a tossup. The Terps won their first meeting, 7-5.

The Maryland-Randolph Macon game scheduled at College Park yesterday was canceled.

Indian, Rider Golfers Win by 9-0

Anacostia and Roosevelt High School golf teams yesterday had an easy time of it. Both won by 9-to-0 shutouts over Tech and Western, respectively.

Anacostia's victory was aided by three forfeits which also brought three best-ball points to them. Winners for Anacostia were Belote, 5 and 4, over Allman; Lukat, 2 and 1, over Morton, and Wrenn, 4 and 3, over Tulenko.

Capital Store Sales Up 20% During Week

Washington department store sales in the week ended May 9 were 20 per cent heavier than in the same period last year, the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond reported last night in its weekly survey. The average increase in the Fifth District was estimated at 17 per cent.

For the four weeks ended May 9 local store sales increased 24 per cent over the like period last year while the entire district showed a 20 per cent gain in the period.

6 Per Cent Rise in U. S.

Nationally, the Federal Reserve Board estimated yesterday that department store sales in the week ended May 9 were 6 per cent higher than in the week last year.

In the week ended May 2 sales were 8 per cent above a year ago and in the four weeks ended May 9 they averaged 10 per cent more than in the similar period last year.

By Federal Reserve district percentage increases last week included:

Boston, 10; New York, 5; Philadelphia, 15; Cleveland, 6; Atlanta, 1; Chicago, 1; St. Louis, 6; Minneapolis, 2, and San Francisco, 9 per cent.

Americans are spending about as much money as they did last year but are getting less merchandise, Dun & Bradstreet's weekly trade review indicated.

Physical Volume Drops

While most retailers found sales during the past week equalled totals of a year ago, the review said, a majority had moderate to substantian decreases in the physical volume of turnover.

"Retail dollar sales on average were estimated approximately equal to volume in the corresponding week of 1941." the review said. "Since the price rise over the period ranged close to 15 per cent, this comparison represented a 'rather sharp decline in physical volume."

Loss of sales of automobiles, tires, typewriters and several other high price items began to reflect in retail sales totals, Dun & Bradstreet said, as forward buying simmered down.

The decline in anticipatory buying contrasted with an uptrend in sales of quality goods.

Houseware Demand Brisk

The biggest activity was noted in personal merchandise, and there was a brisk demand for linens and housewares. Women's apparel lines attracted considerable interest, although men's clothing moved more slowly.

Wholesale markets were quiet as far as new business was concerned, although shipments were well ahead of last year in many lines.

There continued to be some uncertainty over the price adjustments required and not all sellers were prepared to quote prices on the new basis.

Northwestern Bell Cancels Rate Raise At OPA Request

Des Moines, Iowa, May 15 (AP).—The Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. announced today it has eliminated its recently imposed 15 per cent surcharge at the request of the Office of Price Administration, effective today.

"In response to the request of OPA and with a desire to cooperate fully with the national effort to prevent inflation," a formal statement said, "we have withdrawn the 15 per cent surcharge on telephone rates in Iowa effective May 15."

The rate increase, which aroused a deluge of controversy when it was put into effect April 10, applied to both intrastate and long-distance tolls and to local telephone service except in a few border cities where exchanges serve more than one State and so come under Federal Communications Commission control.

I. T. & T. Deficit Mounts in Year

Consolidated statements, the company said in its annual report, included only accounts of the parent company, of subsidiaries engaged primarily in operation of telephone properties in the West Indies and South America and of certain domestic subsidiaries. All other subsidiaries were excluded because of war conditions.

Management-Labor Committees Get Results; Plans for Such Arrangement Long Opposed

The lion and the lamb—or the lamb and the lion, depending on whether it is management or labor doing the talking—are teaming up in double harness to get a job done.

Labor-management committees have been formed in 700 plants on a voluntary basis to speed up war production under a plan offered by Donald M. Nelson, War Production Board chief.

More than 1,000,000 managers and workers are engaged in the drive for faster and better production through suggestions offered the management by employes.

Former outcries that such an arrangement would tend to "sovietize" American industry are now replaced with claims that employe suggestions have helped better production.

It remains to be seen whether this spirited cooperation—between the man who hires and the man who is hired, with both intent on getting the best out of the plant—continues after the war.

At the present time the desire of management and labor dovetail on one point: both assert they want this country to get the most out of its war effort.

Labor also knows that speed and efficiency will not mean fewer jobs now, because for the duration there will be more jobs than men to fill them.

Whether production speed and efficiency after the war still will mean no decrease in the number of jobs available depends on how this country's peacetime production is geared and its economy is handled.

But from the experience and benefits gained now through cooperative effort, management and labor may find it equally profitable to maintain and develop the arrangement in the years ahead.

There are good reasons why management should be extremely willing to receive production ideas from its help:

To get the benefit of all the brains working in a plant instead of relying entirely on a manager who may be overlooking good bets, and to help build up employe morale.

The word "morale" is one of the main selling points stressed by industrial engineers—who might have been called efficiency men in times past—in helping management get the most out of its plants and workers.

Harold B. Bergen, partner of the management consulting firm of McKinsey & Co., a specialist in personnel problems, in an analysis for the National Industrial Conference Board, Inc., listed some of the following as factors influencing morale more than any others:

The average employe does not want to run the plant nor does he want a bawling out.

But he does want:

To be consulted on changes vitally affecting him; an opportunity to talk things over with the boss; to make suggestions for doing the job better; to get credit for the good suggestions and an explanation why others are not accepted.

Through the labor-management committees he has a chance to make suggestions—and even receive a bonus for the good ones—and at the same time see not only the bosses but his own fellow workers decide on their merits.

"Increased wages alone," Bergen says, "do not mean better morale and expanded production. Of course, all employes want more money. Who doesn't? But they want good leadership and efficient management more."

The B. F. Goodrich Co. has released one of the most extensive reports on the results of the management-labor committee, set up voluntatrily at its Akron, Ohio, rubber plant.

The company said suggestions for speeding up productiton there have increased 75 per cent since March 29, when the committee began functioning and that two-thirds of the suggestions offered by the employes were so sound they already have been put into effect.

The committee is composed of 12 members, six representing the management, and six chosen by the United Rubber Workers' Union. Two co-chairmen, representing labor and management, guide the group, presiding at alternate meetings.

Labor's other five members on the committee are recruited from various departments in the plant while the management's other five members are heads of departments.

The committee has no concern with work weeks, changes of hours, rates of pay or overtime problems. Its sole purpose is to devise ways and means of increasing production and reduce waste in manhours, labor and essential raw materials.

As an illustration of the spirit of cooperation behind the committee, the company said, is the provision that if the workers must meet during their own worktime, the union must underwrite their pay for the duration of the meeting.

If, however, they happen to meet on their day off, that time is their contribution to the principle of labor-management cooperation toward increased production.

Each department has a suggestion box which is filled and emptied daily as the proposals are sent to the central committee for consideration by the proper subcommittee.

Suggestions accepted by the management are rewarded in relation to their value and the awards are given in cash, war bonds or merchandise worth more than the sum involved.

100 Firms Hold 76% of Large War Contracts

By the Associated Press

One hundred corporations now hold about 76 per cent of all the war supplies contracts of $50,000 or more, the War Production Board said yesterday.

Indicating, however, that primary contracts now are being spread somewhat more broadly than before Pearl Harbor, WPB reported that, as of the end of September, 1941, the same 100 companies had approximately 82 per cent of the contracts.

Comparable figures as of May, 1941, were not available for the entire 100, WPB said, but comparisons for 60 companies showed that at the end of May, 1941; September, 1941, and February, 1942, respectively, the percentage of contracts held by the top companies was about 75 per cent, 76 per cent, and 69 per cent.

Four companies, holding contracts totaling one billion dollars and more, have about 21 per cent of the contracts let. Twenty-eight hold more than half of the contracts.

Air Conditioning Sales Prohibited

The War Production Board yesterday prohibited new installations of air conditioning and commercial refrigerating equipment in theaters, restaurants, hotels and for all other uses except to meet military and essential civilian needs.

The order also places rigid restrictions on the production and sale of such equipment.

After 90 days, the production of beer dispensers, carbonated beverage dispensers, bottled beverage coolers, individual room coolers, florists' boxes, fountainette-type soda fountains, and low-temperature refrigerators designed to store frozen foods or to "quick-freeze" food, will be stopped completely.

In the 90-day period of permitted production, only the Army, Navy and Maritime Commission will be entitled to order these and similar articles.

Curtailment of the industry, which includes 700 manufacturers and sales of $17,500,000 in the last three months of 1941, was necessary to save large quantities of war-essential iron, steel and copper, WPB's announcement said.

I.B.M. Offers Double Pay In Lieu of Vacations

Endicott, N. Y., May 15 (AP).—So that war production will continue uninterrupted this summer, International Business Machines Corporation will pay double wages to employes who forego vacations.

Vice President Charles A. Kirk issued a bulletin to the nearly 3000 workers stating "each employe who foregoes his vacation will receive vacation pay, and in addition . . . compensation based on his prevailing rate for the number of hours actually worked in each work week during the vacation period." Workers may take a vacation with pay, however.

The vacation pay was estimated to amount to about $350,000.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, May 15 (AP).—A meek rally of grain prices, started late yesterday and extended during the first part of today's session, was snuffed out by selling just before the close.

Early fractional gains in all pits, with soybeans up a cent, were wiped out and in most cases small losses substituted. Rye was weakest of the cereals, dropping more than a cent as a result of selling inspired partly by receipt of more Canadian rye here by boat. Poor demand for meal caused soybeans to slump about 2 to 3 cents from early highs.

Favorable crop reports, failure of milling and flour trade to improve, a let-up in shipping business and threatened strict control over grain marketing because of scarcity of storage space were bearish factors.

Wheat closed ⅝ to ¾ cent lower than yesterday, May 1.20⅝@1.20¾, July 1.23; corn unchanged to ¼ down, May 85⅞, July 88⅛; oats unchanged to ⅛ off; soybeans ½ to 1¼ lower; rye 1⅛ to 1½ down.

More Time for Retailers

The Office of Price Administration yesterday extended from June 1 to July 1 the time within which retail storekeepers must file price lists on cost-of-living commodities with local war price and rationing boards.

The revision of the universal price order does not change, however, the requirement that the specified cost-of-living articles must be posted plainly in each store beginning May 18.

The cost-of-living commodities are a selected few of the millions of articles covered by the price order which are accorded special treatment for the information of the buying public.

The extension on the price list filing date was granted, OPA said, to "relieve somewhat the burden of physical work" imposed by the order on merchants whose stock might contain thousands of items.

SEC Reaffirms Holding Firms' Death Sentence

By the Associated Press

Philadelphia, May 15.—The Securities and Exchange Commission declared today that "at a time when efficient service and expansion of power facilities are vital to the war effort, it is clearly contrary to the public interest to allow substantial conflicts to exist between the public interest and the dominating company" of utility systems.

The statement, which in effect reaffirmed the commission's stand to continue with strict enforcement of the "death sentence" clauses of the Holding Company Act for the duration of the war, was made in an opinion denying the Commonwealth & Southern Corporation a rehearing on an SEC order directing the vast utility system to reduce its capitalization to a single class of common stock.

War Effort Seen Hurt

The billion dollar holding company had asked for a rehearing on grounds that "the public interest requires that the time and effort" of the corporation and its subsidiaries "be devoted to war and the business of supplying war industries rather than to the complex problems and extensive hearings necessary under Sections 11 (B), (1) and 11 (B), (2)."

Commonwealth also contended that recapitalization "is not necessary to the proper operation of such businesses by respondent's subsidiaries."

"These arguments," the SEC said, "raise squarely an issue which is of paramount importance to the power industry at this time, namely, whether compliance with the statutory mandate of Section 11 (B) of the act is necessary and desirable as an integral part of the national war effort, or whether it is consistent therewith.

"We have no doubt or reservation as to the answer, expressed in our recent report to Congress that 'the present emergency and the need for rapid expansion of the Nation's war resources have served to reinforce the desirability of a rapid compliance with Section 11.'

"Sorely Needs Revision"

"It is clear and we have found on the basis of convincing evidence that Commonwealth's corporate structure is sorely in need of revision. In its present form, it constitutes a threat to operating utility subsidiaries, their investors and consumers, and to the public generally, as well as to the interests of Commonwealth's own security holders.

"If the way is to be opened for efficient expansion of power facilities and service on the part of the operating companies in aid of the national emergency, a necessary step in that direction is the clearing away of financial impediments to the system arising out of the parent company's constant need of revenues to support its own top-heavy capital structure and fixed dividend requirements."

Stock Prices Generally Show Buoyant Tone Despite Sharp Break in Air Transport Shares

New York, May 15.—Aside from an assortment of weak aviation issues, stocks generally exhibited quiet recovery leanings in today's market. The list, as a whole, shifted to the upside at the start. While dealings were slack throughout, the majority of leaders closed around the day's best levels with advances of fractions to a point or more.

The principal air transport stocks dropped 1 to 3 points or so when it was announced the Army would take over and actually operate or control all domestic passenger planes as a war measure. The question as to how shareholders would fare under the new setup brought out some early selling but nothing that could be called really heavy. A few aircraft manufacturing stocks slipped but declines in both categories were reduced here and there at the last.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .3 of a point at 33.8. Transfers totaled 257,120 shares compared with 278,857 Thursday.

Wall Street seemed to have retrieved some of its bullish spirits as bulletins told of the strong offensive being put up by the Russians at Kharkov which, if successful, was expected to more than offset temporary Nazi advances on the Kerch Peninsula.

There was still plenty of worry anent spreading economic controls and their repercussions on earnings and dividends. Persistent tax doubts also contributed a restraining influence for potential buyers.

Among the good rail performers was Great Northern preferred which was up 1⅛. Directors declared a dividend of $1 on this issue against 50 cents disbursed in December.

Prominent on the revival were American Telephone, United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Anaconda, DuPont, International Harvester, Texas Co., General Foods, United States Distributing preferred and Continental Can.

Air lines issues on the offside included those of American, Eastern, United and Transcontinental & Western. The last named, along with United Aircraft, went into new low ground for the year. Douglas Aircraft was off a point.

Rail bonds were selectively higher. At Chicago wheat was off ⅜ to ⅝ of a cent a bushel, corn unchanged to down ¼ and hogs up 10 to 20 cents. Cotton gained 30 to 50 cents a bale.

Improved in the curb were Lake Shore, American Gas, American Cyanamid, Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Sherwin Williams. Turnover here aggregated 46,525 shares versus 55,585 yesterday.

Magill Favors Tax Deduction For Insurance

New York, May 15 (AP).—Roswell Magill, former Undersecretary of the Treasury, today recommended the Government permit a dedction for life insurance premiums to some limited extent before income taxes.

Speaking at a meeting of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, Magill said a deduction for life insurance premiums "would be almost as justifiable as the deductions now allowed for charitable contributions."

Any such provision, he said, should be limited to a definite percentage of income to prevent its use in unjustified cases for deliberate tax avoidance.

Magill, now a law professor at Columbia University, said life insurance was almost the only way the middle-class individual could protect his family, because under present conditions, there was little left of income after paying living costs and income taxes.

Money Circulation Jumps 799 Million

Money in circulation which has been rising sharply since the middle of January now is estimated by the Federal Reserve Board at $11,-$61,000,000—an increase of 799 million dollars in four months.

The recent rise, following a steady gain for several years, has been attributed unofficially to both inreased business need for coin and currency and also to individual hoarding.

Clock Cases Now Made of Paper Pulp

Winsted, Conn., May 15 (AP).—The W. L. Gilbert Clock Co. has overcome a problem of raw material scarcity by producing clocks with cases made from paper pulp.

The company, first clock maker to use pulp, said that while the highly-polished surface of metal and other case materials had not been attained, a variety of designs and colors was possible.

War Construction Contracts in April Show 23% Gain

New York, May 15 (AP).—War construction contracts awarded last month in the 37 Eastern States aggregated $498,742,000, a 23 per cent increase over April, 1941, but 18 per cent under the March total, the F. W. Dodge Corp. announced today.

The 18 per cent decrease was not considered a trend, the research service said, because drastic curtailment of civilian construction occurred in April and it was a period for planning large war building projects to be started soon.

Contract total for the first third of 1942 was $1,859,944,000, compared with $1,462,156,000 in the first four months of 1941, an increase of 27 per cent.

Number of units increased 29 per cent over the first third of 1941 while dollar volume increased 7 per cent, reflecting a decrease in average unit costs, due to elimination of most types of new housing outside war classification.

Peoples Drug Cuts Dividend To 25 Cents

Citing the uncertainty of future tax legislation, directors of Peoples Drug Stores, Inc., voted to reduce the second quarter dividend on common stock to 25 cents a share.

M. G. Gibbs, chairman of the board, declared yesterday that sales volume and increased earnings of the company "amply justified" the continuation of quarterly dividends of 40 cents a share but——

"Since there can be no certainty at this time just what will be the effect of the proposed tax act (Federal Revenue Act), the director concluded that prudence required the conservation of cash until the tax liability is more definitely determined," he said.

The second quarter dividend is payable July 1 to stockholders of record June 8. In the first quarter this

Listen! with Glynn

Guy Hutcheson, a C. B. S. technician, traveled 24,284 miles by air, train, boat, automobile, bus, muleback and even on foot, within a five-month period, to visit the 76 stations of the Columbia Broadcasting System's new Latin-American network which is to be dedicated with a full hour program for the hemispheric audience next Tuesday, May 19, at 9:30 p. m.

The stations of the new chain will be linked with the 121 of C. B. S.'s United States' network for a daily exchange of major programs, intended to make the whole hemisphere happy.

After his rather extensive trip, Hutcheson reported that news reports from the United States "are considered much more trustworthy and impartial than those from other countries."

Group listening, Hutcheson said, is the customary thing in most of the Latin-American countries. Many of the radio stations have installed public address systems in parks, plazas, at street corners and other gathering places. At times, he reported, these places are so crowded with people that the streets are blocked, especially in the early evening or on weekends when popular programs are being broadcast.

In some cities, radio sets are installed in busses, much to the delight of the passengers. Hutcheson said that in one small city, a major Saturday night amusement for youngsters is to ride the busses for hours, listening to the radio.

So it looks as if C. B. S.'s audience will be even larger and more enthusiastic.

Contract Bridge

Mechanical ability, alone, will not win today's hand, shown in box, played by South at a contract of three no trump. Against a low diamond lead by West, what would you consider the best plan to try to take nine tricks? This, of course, requires etherizing the adversaries, for it is plain to see it can't be done otherwise.

Today's Hand

Neither Side Vulnerable
SOUTH DEALER

NORTH: ♠ 10 6 2 ♡ Q 8 4 ◇ 6 2 ♣ Q J 10 9 6
WEST: ♠ J 7 4 ♡ J 7 6 ◇ A Q 7 5 3 ♣ 7 5
EAST: ♠ Q 8 5 3 ♡ A 9 3 ◇ 10 8 4 ♣ 4 3 2
SOUTH: ♠ A K 9 ♡ K 10 5 2 ◇ K J 9 ♣ A K 8

The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 2 NT | Pass | 3 NT | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

Opening lead: 5 ◇.

The solution

Declarer must resort to deception to take nine tricks on today's hand, for nothing else will win. With East in the lead, the ace of hearts and four diamond tricks will surely set the hand.

After the diamond opening, which South wins, he realizes that he can take five clubs, two spades, plus the diamond trick, which count up to just eight tricks. He has a potential heart trick, but he cannot take it without letting the defense in the lead. If West has the heart ace, declarer is safe, for another diamond lead will have to come up to his king. But if East has the heart ace, he is cooked; a diamond lead through his honor will be ruinous. Not knowing where the ace lies, he must hope that subtlety will succeed where skill is helpless. He cashes the ace, king of clubs and leads the king of hearts. This (he hopes) will look to East as if South held the blank ace, king of clubs and was trying to set up the queen of hearts in dummy as an entry to the remaining clubs. If East falls for this bit of flummery, declarer will pocket the king of hearts and dash home with the remaining clubs and the ace, king of spades.

Clever defense will parry this strategy, however; West will play the seven and then the five of clubs on the ace, king leads to indicate only two, and if East is watching he will know that declarer has the third club. He will grab the king of hearts when it is offered and play a diamond through to his partner. Then he can smile brightly at South at the end of the hand and say: "Nice try."
